

NOCCCD Study Abroad Program

The Study Abroad Program at Fullerton College and Cypress College provides our students the opportunity to study in a foreign location that will promote a global perspective for effective living and working in an international environment. Taking part in a Study Abroad program offers many benefits including:

Education - The courses we offer directly relate to and benefit from the instruction location. You will become familiar with an entirely new way of learning.

Transfer - Most courses are transferable; most fulfill General Education transfer requirements to the California State Universities, the Universities of California, and many private colleges and universities. Many four-year institutions and scholarship organizations view Study Abroad experience positively when considering students for transfer and awards.

International Experience - Increasingly, US employers are looking for people who have international experience, who understand the differences in cultural norms and values. Study Abroad is one of the best ways to achieve that.
